Samdrup Jongkhar Dzongkhag Celebrates First Birth Anniversary of Her Royal Highness Princess Sonam Yangden Wangchuck

On the auspicious occasion of Her Royal Highness Princess Sonam Yangden Wangchuck's first birth anniversary, the Dzongkhag Administration, along with Rabdey, regional heads, Gups, and Mangmis, came together to offer prayers and well wishes at the Dratsang.

The ceremony included the lighting of butter lamps, the offering of Chhag and Ngyender, and special prayers for Her Royal Highness's continued good health and happiness.

A cake-cutting ceremony was held as part of the celebrations, followed by the Thresuel of Zhabdrung statues, a sacred ritual performed by the Lam Neten of Rabdey. His Majesty's Zhabten was also recited, adding to the solemnity of the occasion.

The statues were then ceremoniously handed over to the Gups, who were entrusted with the responsibility of transporting them with the utmost reverence to their respective Gewogs. Upon arrival, the statues were to be received with grand receptions, marking the significance of the event in each Gewog.
